Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-30, 37-45, drawn to a method of making a surface covering, classified in class 427, subclass various.
- II. Claims 31-36, drawn to a surface covering, classified in class 428, subclass 304.4+.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as one wherein the ink contains a polymerization initiator instead of a photoinitiator.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with William R. Robinson on 05/06/2003 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group II, claims 31-36. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 1-30, and 37-45 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 31-33, and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Courtoy et al (Re 33, 599). Courtoy teaches a surface covering comprising a substrate 1, a foamed and chemically embossed plastic layer 2 overlaying the substrate, an ink 3 containing an inhibitor, an ink 4 containing a photoinitiator printed in a design on the foam layer, a cured coating 5 overlaying the foam layer and ink wherein the portion of the cured coating disposed over the ink is chemically and mechanically embossed (figures 1-6, example 1). Courtoy also teaches a plastic layer is non-expandable (claim 2). Figure 6 of Courtoy shows that the portion of the cured coating which is not disposed over the ink has a texture different from the portion of the cured coating disposed over the ink. It is the examiner's position that Courtoy anticipates the claimed subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1771

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 34 and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Courtoy et al (Re 33, 599) in view of Haemer et al (US 4,298,646). Courtoy is silent as to a polyurethane coating overlaying the cured coating. Haemer teaches a surface covering comprising a polyurethane coating 18 overlaying the cured coating 16 to provide the covering surface more resistance to changes under future conditions (figures 1-2). Thus, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill at the time the invention was made to apply a polyurethane coating onto the cured coating of Courtoy motivated by desire to provide the surface covering more resistance to changes under future conditions.

Double Patenting

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 31-33 and 35 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-40 of U.S.

Patent No. Re 33,599. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the reasons listed in the 102 rejections above.
